

Feb 25, 2026 Wondernotes Chorus Newsletter

Bad weather couldn't stop these truly amazing kiddos! They have all exhibited joy, growing confidence, and a love for music! At Wondernotes Chorus practices, hard work and the happiness that singing brings came together beautifully! Check out these photos from our last rehearsal. The children could feel that showtime was near and a great time was had by all! You can find details for our upcoming performance below. See you Monday evening!

IMPORTANT: Monday, March 2nd, singers should be dropped off in front of the theater at 5:30 PM sharp, dressed in their performance outfit. Please refer to your cell phone time. Please do not release children early or late. Donna and Dana will gather the children outside as they are dropped off. Parents, after dropping you child off at the CTG Starr Theater, 520 S Elm St, you can take your time parking and getting settled in the theatre.

The address is 520 South Elm St (Community Theatre of Greensboro). CTG's Starr Theatre is an intimate, 160-seat performance venue that's being generously offered to our group free of charge. Feel free to invite friends and family members to the performance.

TREMENDOUS THANKS!

Thank you Parents and Grandparents for hustling about to get the singers to rehearsal and patiently waiting for us to bring them out to your cars afterward. We are happy for the chance to support these children to work together, sing confidently, build their talent, and celebrate the performing arts!

THE FUTURE

It's inspiring to see what such young children can accomplish! The last two months have been a shining success and later in 2026, we're hopeful to reconvene and grow the Triad Wondernotes Children's Chorus. We'll send out an email or text message inviting children to return as soon as schedules and arrangements can be solidified.
